Kemi plan to get rid of NCHIs

THE Conservatives have announced plans to scrap non-crime hate incidents (NCHIs).

Tory leader Kemi Badenoch (above) has proposed a new law to protect free speech that would ban police, in almost all cases, from collecting personal data where no crime has been committed.

Forces would no longer be allowed to keep records on people accused of expressing "offensive but not criminal" views or behaviour towards someone with protected characteristics – such as race, religion or transgender identity.

Mrs Badenoch said: "The British public want police on the streets, fighting crime and protecting families – not trawling social media for things someone might find offensive."

"Recording so-called non-crime hate incidents hasn't cut crime. It's wasted police time."

Schools to get brekkie funds

EDUCATION Secretary Bridget Phillipson says schools will receive the required funding for breakfast clubs.

She told ITV's Good Morning Britain that a 60p per-child daily funding rate runs alongside other money to help set up the schemes.

"The funding that we're putting in place is more generous than schemes that came before," she said in response to union criticism of funding.

The Government's taxpayer-funded breakfast clubs began yesterday as many schools returned from the Easter break.

Crossdressers plan more protests

BRITAIN BRACED FOR TRANNY TROUBLE

TRANVESTITE protesters will take their demos across Britain, with a dozen rallies planned for this weekend.

In Westminster on Saturday, seven statues – including those of Nelson Mandela and Millicent Fawcett, the suffragist – were defaced with graffiti when thousands of crossdressing demonstrators and their "allies" protested against the Supreme Court's ruling on the definition of a woman as "a woman".

Yvette Cooper, the Home Secretary, described the vandalism as "disgraceful" and "unacceptable", and Scotland Yard has launched a criminal investigation to identify those responsible. The troublemakers also had placards threatening death and injury to real women.

Police forces will now be braced for further potential flashpoints this weekend, with gatherings planned in UK towns and cities – from Darlington to Southampton.

Large rallies are also expected in York, Coventry, Liverpool, Portsmouth, Birmingham, Cheltenham, Cambridge, Derby, Oxford and Bristol, and further protests are planned for next month, culminating in a London demonstration on May 25.

Sources suggested that the Metropolitan Police was caught off guard by the scale of the demonstration on Saturday.

Yesterday Number 10 said that in the light of the court ruling, PM Keir Starmer does not believe that men in dresses are women.

Trump woe as Reeves heads to US

DONALD Trump has thrown markets into fresh turmoil as finance ministers, including Rachel Reeves, prepare to fly to Washington for crisis talks.

Trillions of dollars were wiped off US stocks and the dollar plunged to a three-year low on Monday just weeks after the US President's "liberation day" tariffs triggered a global sell-off.

It comes as Chancellor Reeves (above) is set to attend the spring meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank in Washington.

The IMF meetings are the first since Mr Trump's inauguration and will take place against the most fraught economic backdrop since the Covid pandemic.

The so-called lender of last resort was expected to cut its growth forecasts yesterday as countries grapple with the fallout from Mr Trump's trade war.

While in Washington, the Chancellor will also hold talks on a US-UK trade deal, as she struggles to turn Britain's economy around.

Pope funeral at weekend

CARDINALS met yesterday morning for the first time since Pope Francis died, to confirm the details of his funeral on Saturday.

Those currently in Rome were invited to meet at 9am to commence its planning.

The world will be watching the Vatican City after the death of the 88-year-old pontiff on Easter Monday.

The gathered cardinals will also decide when the Pope's body will be moved to St Peter's Basilica this week, to allow the public to pay their respects before the burial.

Director of the Holy See Press Office Matteo Bruni said the transfer could happen this morning.

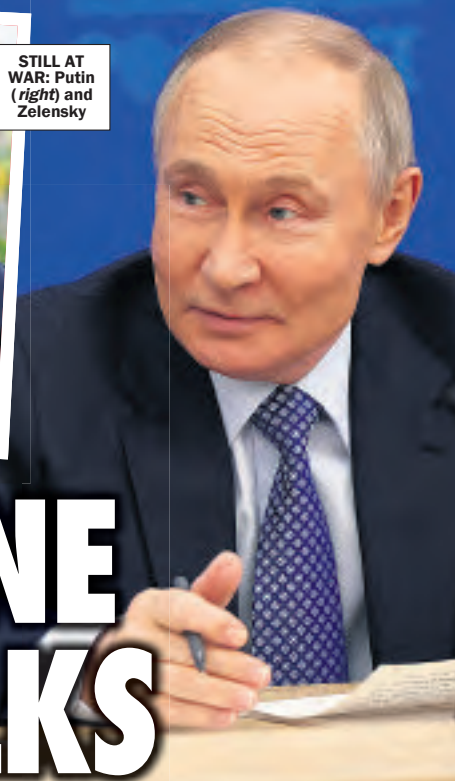

Francis died after a cerebral stroke that led to a coma and irreversible heart failure.

Is the end in sight?

PUTIN 'OPEN' TO UKRAINE PEACE TALKS

STILL AT WAR: Putin (right) and Zelensky

EVIL Russian President Vladimir Putin has hinted he is open to talks with the Ukrainian leader Volodymyr Zelensky for the first time since the early stages of the war.

Speaking to Russian state TV, Putin said Russia has "always looked positively on any peace initiatives."

He added "we hope that representatives of the Kyiv regime will feel the same way".

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said Putin's comments indicated a willingness to engage in direct talks with Ukraine about not striking civilian targets.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Zelensky did not respond directly to Putin's comments, but said Ukraine was "ready for any conversation" that would ensure the safety of civilians.

There have been no direct talks between the two sides since February 2022 when Russia launched its full-scale invasion of Ukraine.

Negotiations

In comments to the Interfax news agency, Peskov said: "When the President said that it was possible to discuss the issue of not striking civilian targets, including bilaterally, he had in mind negotiations and discussions with the Ukrainian side."

In his nightly video address, Zelensky said Ukraine needs a "clear answer from Moscow" on whether it will agree to stop attacks on civilian infrastructure.

Meanwhile, fighting continued overnight with reports of drone strikes in the port city of Odessa.

Local authorities said three people were injured in the raid, with fires breaking out and damage to residential buildings.

Ukraine is scheduled to participate in talks with US and European countries this week in London, following a meeting in Paris last week where leaders discussed pathways to end the war.

Putin's proposal for direct talks comes after both sides have accused each other of breaching a 30-hour "Easter truce" announced by Putin on Saturday.

Zelensky said Russian troops had violated the ceasefire nearly 3,000 times since the start of Sunday, while Russia accused Ukraine of launching hundreds of drones and shells.

Both sides have been facing increasing pressure from the US, where Donald Trump has threatened to "take a pass" on further peace negotiations if no progress is made.

NAVY'S 'FK YOU' TO CHINA

THE Royal Navy is set to wind up China, by sending an aircraft carrier battle group through a high-tension sea lane.

Carrier Strike Group 2025 set sail from Portsmouth yesterday as part of an eight-month deployment to the Indo-Pacific.

While the Government has not confirmed the precise route of Operation Highmast, the Navy has not ruled out transiting through the contentious 111-mile-wide Taiwan Strait.

China has previously warned the Navy to stay out of the Strait, across which it would launch any invasion of Taiwan.

The deployment comes as tensions between the UK and China have increased over spying fears and the row triggered by the UK Government taking control of British Steel from its Chinese owner.

Commodore James Blackmore, in charge of the UK Carrier Strike Group, said he was ready to undertake any route required.

Speaking on the flight deck of HMS Prince of Wales, the £3billion aircraft carrier that will lead the group, he said: "I will deliver whatever mission I am ordered to go and do – that's my role."

Sick net trolls target Liz & Billy Ray over romance...

HE'LL RIDE HER HARDER THAN RED RUM

EASTER JOY: Pic of new couple

STUNNA: Liz loves to pose in swimwear

LIZ Hurley has got a new fella – Achy Breaky Heart singer Billy Ray Cyrus.

On Sunday, the actress took to social media to debut her new romance with Billy Ray as the duo shared an Instagram post.

The Austin Powers hottie shared a snap of her and the country star posing on a farm as he kissed her cheek.

Billy wore a relaxed denim shirt with striped pants and accessorised the look with festive Easter bunny ears on his head.

Liz's son, Damian, rushed to the comments section of the post to applaud the new romance – using emojis.

The pair's romance comes after Cyrus, 63, finalised his divorce from singer-songwriter Firerose in August last year.

Liz, 59, was previously married to businessman Arun Nayar from 2007 to 2010.

Prior to that, she famously dated actor Hugh Grant and late producer Steve Bing, who is Damien's father.

However, when news of the latest romance hit the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail, vile internet trolls crawled out of the woodwork.

On leered: "Looks amazing for an old bird. Would rattle it from dusk till dawn."

Another drooled: "He will ride her harder than Red Rum" – a reference to the legendary steeplechaser.

A third salivated: "I would lick between her toes".

Meanwhile, a pal of Liz's said: "I really cannot believe some of these comments – they are disgusting."

"These people clearly need some kind of help."

Wills & Kate Mull things over on trip

THE Prince of Wales is taking wife Princess Kate on holiday for their 14th wedding anniversary, to a rainy Scottish island.

Wills and Kate (above), known as the Duke and Duchess of Rothesay when in Scotland, will travel to the Isle of Mull, in the Inner Hebrides, next week to connect with small community life and nature.

They'll also make a visit to nearby Iona during the two-day trip, go to a community hub that hosts parties and weddings, meet a herd of Hebridean sheep on a coastal croft and spend time in ancient woodland.

The young Prince William and Kate Middleton met in Scotland while both studying at the University of St Andrews in Fife and married at Westminster Abbey on April 29, 2011.

Mayor's purge on homeless

A MAYOR is under fire for wanting to "get rid of" his city's homeless folk by giving them "all the fentanyl they want" – as he called for a "purge".

R. Rex Parris, the mayor of Lancaster in California shared his controversial views during a city council meeting.

Parris has "no regrets" about wanting to give the homeless the addictive and often lethal opioid.

He added: "I wish that the President would give us a purge."

By TINA GREEN news@sundaysport.co.uk

OUR German pals may have taken the odd misstep over the years.

But there's one thing you can't take away from them... They make great beer.

And today is German Beer Day. Many of the world's best beers are from Germany, and there's nothing like a rich German brew to add a little class to even the smallest event – even if that's an attempted coup in Munich!

German Beer Day celebrates the innovation and craftsmanship of German brewers everywhere.

And the best way to celebrate German Beer Day is to drink some!

So pour yourself a tall, frothy glass of Helles or, if you prefer something a tad stronger, a sturdy Weizenbock.

After a dark rye beer with a texture? Try a Roggenbier! And for something sour, go for a tasty Berliner Weisse.

We're celebrating by printing some snaps of some sexy Fräuleins with big jugs... of beer!

Lineker: I got feeling BBC want rid of me

GARY Lineker says he thinks the BBC wanted him to leave Match of the Day.

The 64-year-old host (above) will leave the Beeb after fronting its coverage of the 2026 World Cup in the US, Mexico and Canada.

Lineker, who has worked as a presenter on the highlights programme since 1999, told the BBC's Amol Rajan: "It's time (to leave). I've done it for a long time, it's been brilliant, it's been great... Well, perhaps they want me to leave... There was a sense of that."

Contract

"I always wanted one more contract."

"It was their preference that I didn't do Match of the Day for one more year so they could bring in new people – so it's slightly unusual that I would do the FA Cup and the World Cup, but, to be honest, it's a scenario that suits me perfectly."

A trio of presenters – Kelly Cates, Mark Chapman and Gabby Logan – will replace him on MotD.

Use hooter to sniff out new mates

WOMEN literally sniff out new friends, boffins claim.

Research on friendship formation from Cornell University, New York, adds to understanding of the complex picture of what goes on when we meet someone for the first time.

Choosing to look at platonic interactions rather than romantic ones, the researchers captured the individual scents of heterosexual women on T-shirts.

Scientists decided to capture what they called "diplomatic" odour – the scent shaped by someone through the many choices they make every day, instead of capturing "natural" odour – a smell isolated from products, pets, and other environmental factors.

Women were then asked to judge each other's friend potential based on their smell alone, before meeting them in person for a brief "speed-friending" chat.

The study, published in Scientific Reports, found if a participant judged someone as having high friend potential based on smell, their evaluation of them after four minutes was similarly high.

Killer son hid remains in 14 bin bags MANIAC CHOPPED UP MUM WITH ELECTRIC CHAINSAW

HELD: Lloyd

A WOMAN'S body was found dismembered and stored in 14 bin bags at her home.

Police showed up at the West Haven, Connecticut, home for a welfare check, after Theodore Lloyd allegedly told police that his mother, Tina Lloyd, 70, had been missing for two months.

When police searched the home, they noticed a smell and found 14 trash bags in an upstairs bedroom.

Police identified the body parts to be Tina, who they said was so badly decomposed that they needed to use DNA to identify her.

Throughout the house, police found indications that someone had tried to burn the home down.

They also found cutting utensils and an electric chainsaw at the property.

Police added that they found plastic bags with evidence as well as receipts and surveillance from a local Walmart and Home Depot that showed Theodore allegedly leaving with the items they recovered.

"I have never seen anything like this in my 22 years on the police," Sgt Scott Allard of the West Haven Police Department said.

The cause of Tina's death is still under investigation so Theodore has not yet been charged with her murder and dismemberment.

A police source added: "We've got to literally piece Tina together like a jigsaw before we can find a cause of death and file any charges."

West Haven Police arrested Theodore and charged him with attempted arson for trying to burn down the house.

They believe he acted alone and say more charges will be filed.

Theodore is currently being held on remand and is due back in court on May 27.

White Lotus star sticks to nude script

THE White Lotus star Walton Goggins has revealed he likes to read his scripts over coffee – stark naked in his back garden.

The 53-year-old actor said stripping off while sipping a morning coffee has been part of his morning routine for years.

He said: "I've been naked in the backyard of every house I've ever owned – you wake up in the morning and you have a beautiful cup of coffee with clothes or sans clothes and feel the air on your body."

"I don't think I'm an exhibitionist. I don't make that choice to put on clothes or not put on clothes. I just know I'm going to have a cup of coffee."

In The White Lotus, Goggins plays the moody, mysterious Rick Hatchett.

In the latest series he shared a steamy sex scene with younger co-star Aimee Lou Wood (above).

Yet his character still achieved sex-symbol status, which Goggins says gives him "a smile in my heart".

His wife Nadia said of his new sex-symbol status: "Suddenly, I feel like all these women find him attractive."

Green light for migrant crime table

THE nationalities of migrants with the highest rates of crime will be revealed in official league tables for the first time.

Yvette Cooper, the Home Secretary, has ordered officials to publish a detailed breakdown of offences committed by foreigners living in the UK while awaiting deportation.

Albanians, Romanians and Poles are expected to be among the highest offenders for crimes like violence, robbery, theft and drug dealing.

Ms Cooper is said to have overruled Home Office officials, who have previously claimed it was too difficult to provide quality data on foreign criminals – telling them she wanted the figures to be published by the end of this year.

The only previous such breakdowns have been unofficial – published by newspapers and campaign groups who obtained the data through freedom of information requests to UK police forces.

The move will be seen as an attempt to take on Tory right-wingers ahead of local elections, who called for data on foreign criminals to be published.

He was a shoulder to cry on SOBBING MISS SHAGGED TEEN LAD

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A TEACHER has been nicked for shagging a student who found her crying in her classroom.

Erika Mattson, 36, was charged by cops in Panama City, Florida, with a single count of authority figure engaging in sexual conduct with a student, after the lad in question claimed they started a sexual and romantic relationship in May 2023.

An affidavit filed by cops stated: "The victim said the relationship began after he saw Mattson crying in her classroom and approached her."

While the student was 18 at the time of the alleged relationship, he was attending the high school of the Kaleidoscope School of Discovery in Panama City, where she worked.

An on top of this, Mattson was the student's middle school teacher a few years previously.

Flirting

The student, who has not been identified, told police that he and the teacher began messaging each other and started flirting while he was still a student, which culminated in the pair agreeing to go on a date.

He said that while they had agreed to go to a local cinema, they "never made it inside", and instead "talked and made out".

Days later, Mattson invited him to her home and they had sex, according to the affidavit. The document reads: "The victim could not advise exactly how many times the two engaged in sexual activity while he was still enrolled in school but advised it happened numerous times before he graduated."

CHARGED: Erika Mattson

On top of his claims, the student provided cops with pictures of himself with his teacher, which included "shirtless photos of the victim with Mattson embracing him" as well as kissing, according to the affidavit.

She was taken to Bay City Jail and later released after posting bail.

Mattson has chosen to represent herself in her case.

COMMUTERS have left almost 300 sex toys on London buses, trains and taxis over a decade, official figures show.

They were all handed to Transport for London lost property between 2014 and 2024, with just 40 reclaimed by owners.

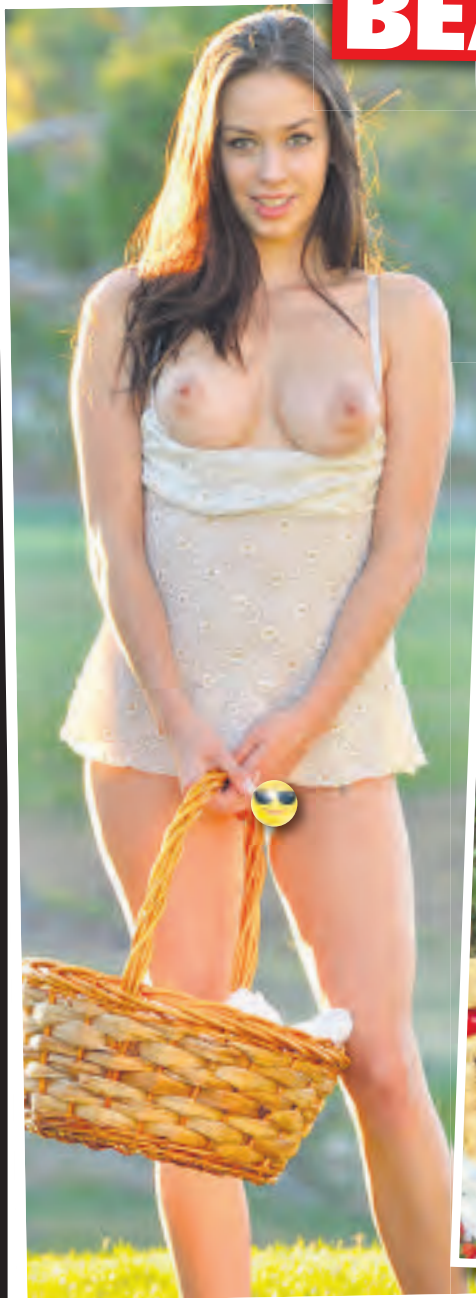

The remainder have either since been sold or destroyed.

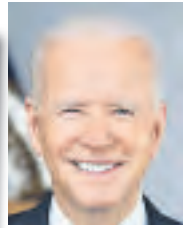

Some were found at train stations including Waterloo, Liverpool Street, Euston, London Bridge and Victoria, and at all five terminals of Heathrow Airport.

A further eight were found in the back of black cabs, while 78 were found on buses.

The remainder were found on Tube and overground trains and the Docklands Light Railway, while four were found in bus and coach stations.

NATIONAL PICNIC DAYGORGEOUS SPREAD, GIRLS!*Biden's left speechless with big fee

JOE Biden is a flop on the public speaking circuit – because so few people want to pay $225,000 to listen to his rambling gibberish.

The ex-President's attempt to bill $300k per speaking appearance is finding few takers, and some of his own former aides say it's time for the 82-year-old to leave the spotlight for good.

A source familiar with Biden's faltering speaking career said the 46th president's standard pitch is 25% below Barack Obama's $400,000 asking price upon leaving office in 2017.

If travel is required, a private jet and expenses for up to five staffers is also expected for Biden (above), who has been represented since February by the Creative Artists Agency. "CAA is having trouble booking gigs, which isn't surprising," an insider said.

A second source said they heard people close to Biden floating an even higher desired fee, despite him having a history of peddling inaccuracies before his political career came to an end when he delivered incoherent debate remarks that prompted a Democratic mutiny.

ON April 23 each year, National Picnic Day encourages everyone to pack up their lunch and take it outdoors.

Picnics are a terrific way to enjoy a meal outdoors in the company of friends and family.

There are a variety of ways to take part in a picnic. It harks back to mid-18th-century al fresco French dining, when all you needed was a bottle of wine, a loaf of bread, some cheese, and fruit and you could have a party under the sky.

Today you can still see people in the park enjoying the traditional French picnic.

These people are called tramps – they do not bother with the bread and cheese and swig Lidl cider rather than wine.

There is also a rival National Picnic Day in June but the April event is less likely to be ruined by wasps – though more likely to get snowed off.

If you ask nicely, they may let you have a bit of their game pie.

Holiday lets shortage for Brits abroad

BRITS visiting Spain this summer may struggle to find accommodation after the Spanish government launched a crackdown on holiday rentals.

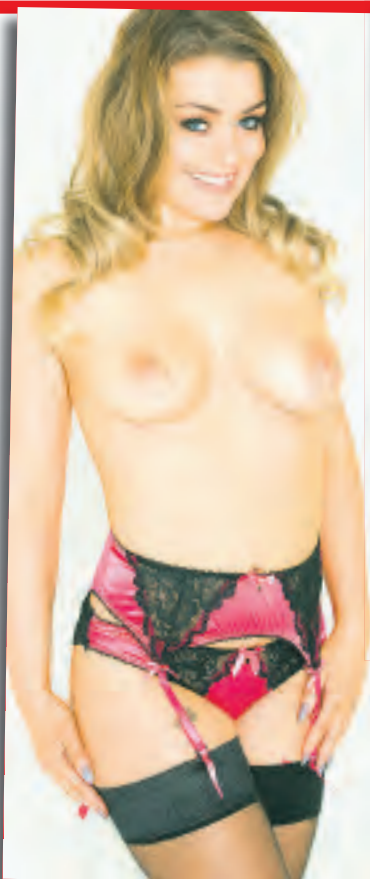

Residential communities in Spain are now allowed to bar individual property owners from using their apartment as a holiday let, under new legislation that came into force this month.

The law means that holiday rentals could be banned from a single apartment complex if 60 per cent of property owners vote to ban them over noise concerns or other forms of disruption.

Spain's left-wing government has also threatened massive fines against holiday platforms – including Airbnb – for hosting properties that do not comply with licencing rules.

Pedro Sánchez, Spain's prime minister, has put pressure on local authorities in so-called "high-tension areas", such as Malaga and Barcelona, to enforce limits on the number of legitimate tourism rentals they allow in their cities.

The clamping down on holiday lets is in response to a surge in house prices.

"Once I know I won't be disturbed, I peel off all my clothes and do household things naked.

"Clothes can feel so restrictive, so it's nice to feel truly uninhibited.

Loon who murdered father tells cops...

SPACE ALIENS STOLE MY DAD'S GUTS

HELD: Jaime Contreras

A NUT arrested for killing his father and disembowelling him told police he believed aliens had harvested his dad's organs.

Jaime Adrian Contreras, 39, was arrested in connection with the suspicious death of 74-year-old Victor Gerardo Contreras at the home the pair shared, according to cops in El Paso, Texas.

The body of the elder Contreras was found by his other son who had gone to investigate after not hearing from him for a week.

According to court documents there was the smell of "rotting flesh" coming from the residence.

Victor Gerardo Contreras' body was found underneath a sheet on the floor of a bedroom. He had sustained head injuries, had a slit throat, several stab wounds around his neck area and had been disembowelled.

Another relative told detectives that she had last spoken to the victim twice just a few days earlier, and he had told her that Jaime Contreras was "acting crazy again," and later that he had called the police.

But he called back later to say that the situation had been resolved.

A neighbour said they had seen the younger Contreras acting erratically and yelling in the street.

When detectives executed a search warrant at the home they found blood spattered throughout the residence, indicating a possible struggle.

A medical examiner later found the victim had been disembowelled.

Jaime Contreras was eventually found in his father's Jeep, near the Hueco Tanks state park.

He had a swollen hand and a deep cut on one finger, which he told cops had been a result of "battling".

Asked about the victim, Contreras told officers he was "in heaven".

He went on to tell officers an alien had harvested his dad's organs a few days earlier.

Officers previously attended the home several times in 2023, when Contreras told them his father was an alien and he did not recognise him.

Contreras is being held at the El Paso County Jail.

'Mouthwashes kill sex drive'

STRONG mouthwashes can lead to decreased sexual performance, experts have warned.

Dentist Staci Whitman said super astringent mouthwashes can "nuke" chemicals essential for the cardiovascular system - which boosts sexual function.

Dr Whitman said: "If we're indiscriminately carpet bombing the mouth with these really strong astringents and rinses, we can be affecting our cardiovascular health... and there are studies to show it can increase blood pressure and potentially cause cardiovascular issues."

She added that male mouth breathers, who take in less nitric oxide and often suffer more cavities and gum disease, could also see sexual performance affected.

POLICE carrying out a drugs raid at a house in Essex found a four-foot-long caiman in the home.

The croc-like reptile, native to Central and South America, was discovered by officers during a search of an address in Aveley, near Grays.

After the animal was captured and secured, it was handed over to the RSPCA, which will care for it until a decision can be made on its future.

Essex Police said officers also recovered a significant haul of cannabis and several weapons, including knives.

A 36-year-old man, from Purfleet, was arrested on suspicion of the production of cannabis, possession of an offensive weapon and contravention of the dangerous wildlife act.

A woman, 35, was arrested for the same offences as well as on suspicion of possession with intent to supply drugs, Essex Police confirmed.

Both have been released under investigation.

Inspector Dan Selby, from Essex Police, said: "Drugs cause misery in our communities and we work hard to tackle their production and sale."

A MAN called cops and told them he'd shot his mum, then called back to say she was OK and making pottery at home.

Aaron Morse, 51 (above), was charged with murder after cops said he shot and killed mum Susan Morse, 74, in Phoenix, Arizona.

Officers responded to a 911 call made Aaron, but while sat outside waiting for the cops, Morse called back to ask if he could call "the whole thing off".

During the call, he also told dispatchers he and his mum had just had an argument and that nothing was wrong – she was just in her pottery studio.

When police arrived at the residence, they found Susan with a gunshot wound to her head. She was taken to a nearby hospital, where she was later pronounced dead.

After Morse shot his mother he placed the murder weapon in some Tupperware.

QUICK, celebrate before they ban it!

That's right, folks, today is St George's Day.

Leftists will do their utmost to piss all over Englishmen's chips by pointing out that St George wasn't English.

The same people rarely seem to point out that St Andrew was not Scottish or that St Joseph Cupertino – the patron saint of astronauts – lived many centuries before the space rocket was even invented.

But to the naysayers, we say: "Fk 'em!"

England was invented in the year 927 when the Saxon kingdoms were merged after years of rivalry.

And in the years since, the country has been the greatest country in the whole world!

So today, break out the good English ale – such as Madri, which is made in Tadcaster, North Yorks – and celebrate England's patron Saint!

#MY SEX FANTASY

'It goes into my mouth and all over my boobs'

...WITH
MARTA
LEVIC, 32DD,
FROM BIRMINGHAM

MY ex-boyfriend told me he had a fantasy about me being tied up to something – like a cross – and being showered in spunk by about 50 guys.

Then afterwards, a stunning female cleans me up with her tongue.

We never did it – some things are just for fantasy – but the thought of it has become something I've flicked my bean over.

The idea of a group of men stood around me in a circle, all furiously jerking off and with all their eyes on me is so hot.

One of them would start to jizz on me and watching that sets off the others, and they rub their dicks harder, then pump thick dollops of spunk on me.

Their cum is deposited in my open mouth and splashes all over my tits – by the end, I'm drenched and my whole body glistens.

In my fantasy all the men treat me like I'm some sort of disposable wank-rag as opposed to worshipping me like a queen.

It's quite an extreme fantasy I wouldn't necessarily do in real life – although there is a very small part of me that is tempted!

But that's what makes it a thrilling escape from reality...

Drunk Miss nicked for hit and run

A PRIMARY school teacher ran over and injured a pedestrian while pissed, on her way to work one morning. Jamie Caldwell, 29 (above) was taken into custody at Glendover Elementary School after cops traced her vehicle from traffic camera footage.

She's been charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident with failure to render aid or assist with death or serious physical injury.

Officers in Lexington, Kentucky, were called to the hit and run just before 7am.

Emergency medical workers transported the injured pedestrian to a local hospital for treatment of life-threatening injuries.

Officers at the scene said Caldwell's car was in the school car park with visible damage.

They also noted that when they came into contact with Caldwell, her "eyes were blood-shot and watery" and they "smelled alcohol coming from her".

Caldwell admitted she had been drinking Bacardi and had taken prescription drugs for anxiety, depression and high blood pressure.

A breath test showed she was three times the legal driving limit.

Jail unveils 'sex room'

ITALY has unveiled its first sex room for lags, after a court ruling said prisoners have a right to "intimate meetings".

The consummating chamber was christened in a pioneering jail in the city of Terni in the central region of Umbria, when an inmate's female partner was allowed in.

The erotic experiment was so successful that the jail is already planning more conjugal visits.

"We can say that a sort of experiment went well and in the next few days there will be other meetings," Giuseppe Caforio, an ombudsman for prisoners' rights, said.

He added: "We are happy because everything went smoothly but it is necessary to maintain the maximum privacy to protect the people involved."

The court's January 2024 ruling stated that jailbirds should have the right to intimate rendezvous with spouses or long-term partners, without prison guards keeping an eye on them.

It also detailed that the pair must have access to a room that stays unlocked, with a bed and a toilet in it, for up to two hours.

SEX ARSE FIRE NUTTER BURNS DOWN HOUSE

BLAZE: Emergency services at scene

DENIAL: Torres (above) faces arson charges

Sami's got it taped!

SAMI Sheen wore another outrageous outfit for weekend two of the Coachella music festival.

The 21-year-old OnlyFans star – daughter of Denise Richards Charlie Sheen – donned what appeared to be silver paint or tape in an 'X' on each nipple, beneath a sheer netted crop top.

The X-rated top showcased her $10K tit job which she had done in November 2023, as well as her toned midriff.

A fan said: "She'll yelp a bit when they take that tape off!"

A LOON who set a SEX ARSE on fire during a bizarre solo nookie session burned down his house and damaged adjoining homes.

Harry Torres sparked the flames of passion in West Brighton on New York's Staten Island. It's not clear why the 37-year-old set the sex arse and another unspecified lust toy ablaze, but he's now facing several charges, including arson.

"I started the fire," Torres told cops. "I set two sex toys on fire."

Inferno

The erotic inferno began in the rear of 'Torres' home, which soon caught fire and spread to two other homes, Deputy Assistant Chief David Simms said in a statement.

The huge blaze also damaged two vehicles, a criminal complaint states.

Firefighters needed six hoses and a tower ladder to extinguish the flames, Simms said.

While one toy was a rubber vagina and arse, it is not clear what the other device was.

Thankfully, there were no injuries.

Torres has since been charged with fourth-degree arson, second-degree reckless endangerment, and fourth-degree criminal mischief, court records show.

He appeared in court wearing the same blue robe and slippers he was arrested in.

Torres pleaded not guilty to all charges and was released on bail.

Georgie was devastated when her former boyfriend began seeing other girls behind her back and lied to her for months about his secret liaisons.
The Glasgow beauty knew the way to get her own back was by “revenge cheating” on the rat – by having an affair of her own.
She began secretly seeing a rich married financier who was 10 years older than her.

He lavished her with luxury gifts and took her on expensive breaks to luxury hotels.
And the 32F babe came up with a plan to finally give her cheating boyfriend a taste of his own medicine.

N' HORNYgeorgie*LYALL*JUSTIN DUNN RANTS!*WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

LONELY people got briefly excited last week after those who never had any friends at school said they had finally found another planet which was "teeming" with life.

It's on what seems to be an all-ocean planet, called K2 18 b, that is a mere 124 light years away from Earth.

If that number doesn't mean anything to you, rest assured that it didn't mean anything to me, either.

So, I did that pretty handy Google thing.

It turns out that in distance terms, one single light year – which is measured by how swiftly light moves from A to B – is 5.88 TRILLION miles.

Now, a trillion these days is what we in the UK used to call a billion, which was a million millions.

But we don't anymore because the Americans, as ever ruining our language instead of their own indigenous Sioux, long ago turned that into a mere 1,000 million.

Why they did that, nobody knows.

But if you were – just for instance – a property guy, and happened to be quite orange, it would suddenly make you sound a lot richer than you actually are.

Pretend

Either way, though, it's still one fk of a long way to pretend anyone could try to traverse.

And that's just one 5.88 trillion-mile trek in any case.

Then there's the other 123 light years to add on top.

And that's where the numbers become so huge, so fantastical, and so utterly mad, that sensible people lose any interest.

It's like wondering how many grains of sand there are on a beach (even though there's probably an app for that).

And even if Elon Musk and the baldy Amazon fella hooked up to do it together, it would still sit in a drawer marked "never, ever, in a trillion years, going to happen".

But someone, somewhere, perhaps eating a homemade lettuce sandwich for lunch while sat in a wet bus stop, will wonder if they will.

Along with the burning question of what we'd have to say to one another.

Now, I'm not going to pretend to know how intergalactic or indeed interstellar plankton speaks, but as literally no one else does, either, let's just pretend.

Imagine the horror if space aliens are VEGAN!

"Hi. My name is Justin. I'm a relatively dull man with a stupid name which I'll never stop blaming my parents for. What's yours?"

"Flob-a-lob-a-lob."

Which was my first fear.

We travel all that sodding way to discover microorganisms that only speak in fart?

Or the other fear.

"Hi. Welcome to K2 18 b. I'm a vegan."

Or...

"Welcome to K2 18 b. Home of chicks with dicks."

Or...

Worship

"Me and my millions of brothers and sisters and theres and theirs would like you to join us and never leave us and worship a weird old man called Jezza."

Or...

"No, we don't know what a woman is. But if you hate Israel, we'll let you in."

Or, even worse, one of them says: "Take me to your leader."

And we shuffle our feet, cough, look askance a few times, and eventually simply blame everything on Brexit instead.

Firefighter stole from dead OAP

A FIREMAN has been charged with theft after stealing £150 from an OAP found dead in a hotel room.

Ryan Hagenbuch, 44 (above), and another fireman were called to a medical emergency at the Nokomis Inn and Suites near Sarasota, Florida.

The victim – a man in his 80s – was pronounced dead at the scene.

After cops left the room, the other fireman said Hagenbuch told him to go into the victim's wallet and "take a little bit of lunch money".

When he refused, Hagenbuch allegedly told him to turn his back, went into the victim's wallet, pulled out two $100 notes and slipped them into his pocket.

"He is dead, nobody is going to know," Hagenbuch allegedly told his colleague.

When Hagenbuch asked if his pal thought less of him because he had stolen the money, he said: "I'm not a scumbag... I don't do scummy shit."

The other fireman reported the incident to his supervisor back at the fire station.

Hagenbuch apologised to his bosses and said he'd made a mistake before then quitting.

Cops arrested him and took him to the Sarasota County Jail.

Motel calls cops over flasher, 63

A FORMER investment broker was held at a motel after he was accused of walking down its hallways naked – waving his erect penis at other guests.

Cops went to the Red Roof Inn in Ocala, Florida, after receiving reports of a naked man.

Officers found Dean Randall Guntner, 63, "walking down the south hallway naked", who told them he wasn't staying at the hotel.

He was put in handcuffs and placed in the back of a patrol vehicle.

A hotel employee who was cleaning near the front desk told cops that Guntner had "started going crazy".

The worker also saw Guntner throw a rubbish bin through a glass door while "naked and clearly aroused".

After being read his rights, Guntner told cops that several individuals had tried to take his clothes away, which was why he was naked.

He faces charges including criminal mischief.

FILTHY ONLYFANS GIRL PIDDLED ON HOTEL BIBLE

LOVE ISLAND CRACKER SOAKS UP THE SUN

Kady's a beach bum!

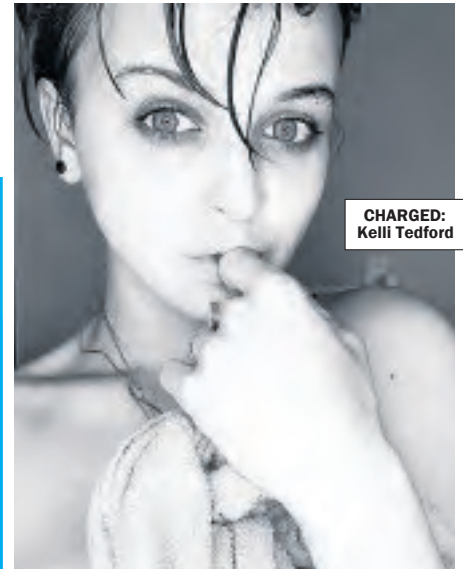

KADY McDermott shows off her amazing figure in a skimpy white bikini as she soaks up the sun at the beach, in sizzling new Instagram snaps.

The Love Island star, 29, looked incredible in the tiny two-piece which boasted a triangle top and matching thong bottoms.

She showcased her curves as she cooled off in the shallows.

Kady was in good spirits as she enjoyed a lavish holiday at the £400-a-night Kuramathi resort in the Maldives.

An onlooker said: "If she wants the sand licking out of her crevices, I'm her man."

CHARGED:
Kelli Tedford

By JIM BROWN news@sundaysport.co.uk

AN OnlyFans model who allegedly filmed herself urinating on veg in a grocery shop has been held over a pee spree in a hotel room – including on a Bible.

Kelli Tedford, 24, was hit with charges this week for allegedly urinating all over a room at a Marriott hotel in Keene, New Hampshire, in January, court documents show.

Tedford, who uses the name "Kinki Kelli" on her now-disabled OnlyFans page, is accused of recording herself peeing on an air conditioner unit, the curtains and a Bible inside the room.

She also allegedly defecated on the floor before hiding her faeces in a toilet cistern.

Spraying

The gross hotel saga allegedly unfolded just weeks before Tedford was arrested for spraying products at the Monadnock Food Co-op in Keene with her urine.

Her alleged display cost the grocery store £1,500 for the ruined products and cleaning, the local police department said at the time.

The store was also forced to issue a recall for organic quinoa, cornmeal, polenta, coconut shreds and raw walnuts after Tedford allegedly relieved herself on the products.

Cops said the grocery store footage was among a trove of online videos they uncovered which documented similar disgusting acts dating back to at least 2021.

Online clips show Tedford holding open her meaty pussy lips before urinating in a variety of apparently public places.

"At this time, it appears likely that similar historic incidents occurred in Keene and surrounding communities where Tedford contaminated items and/or surfaces with urine," police said.

She was slapped with a criminal mischief charge over the grocery store ordeal and is due to be arraigned on all charges on May 8.

Dear Sam,

I'M a bloke and I have been a ladies' hairdresser since I left school – and no, I'm not gay.
Recently, I launched a mobile service and about a month ago I went to a house for an appointment with a woman who was absolutely stunning.
As I was cutting her hair I accidentally brushed my groin against her and she smiled as she felt the stiffy I was sporting.
And she continued to smile as she started to rub my hard cock! and then slowly unzip my trousers.
It was my turn to smile as she took my eight-incher into her mouth and slurped on my manhood.
Then we moved upstairs and fked each other senseless for the next three hours.
Now she's a regular weekend customer and I'm wondering if I should start charging her for my extra services. Should I?
SL, Hampshire

Sam says...

NO. Just accept it as a perk of the job

Dear Sam,

I'VE been shagging my driving instructor, a sexy brunette lady, for months. I'm 18, still at college, and she is 35 and married.
She started flirting with me on my very first lesson and after the second she gave me a nosh on the back seat, parked up in a quiet country lane.
I couldn't believe my luck when she sucked me off for five minutes and then wrapped her 32D tits around my cock before I exploded all over them.
After my next lesson, I licked her out and she begged me to ram her from behind.
We have had sex in her car and at her house, because every other week her husband is on nights.
The problem is that I've deliberately failed my test twice now so I can keep seeing her.
But the lessons are costing me a bloody fortune.
What should I do?
TD, Leeds

Sam says...

PASS your test and she may give you MORE sex!

Bonking wife and home help is wearing me out!

Dear Sam,

MY wife and I both work full time and so we took on a nanny to help at home a few months ago.

She's a busty Australian and it wasn't long before we started shagging.

I was off work one day and saw her standing in her room starkers.

She beckoned me in and we were immediately kissing and groping each other, as she ripped my clothes off.

I lay her on the bed and licked her sopping pussy, then she got down on her knees and sucked me off like a pro till I filled her pretty mouth with my hot semen.

We had the most amazing sex and have been doing so for a few weeks.

My wife doesn't suspect a thing but the hired help keeps playing footsie with me under the table at shared meal times.

I'm infatuated with her and I've been taking a lot of time off work just to bonk her.

I've also been having sex with my wife in between, to keep her happy, but it's exhausting. I'm worried I'll lose them both – and my job – as I keep dozing at my desk. What should I do?
HM, Cheshire

Sam says...

EMPLOY a nanny who looks more like a granny, then you won't be tempted to shag her.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Should I dump my girl for showing sex film to pals?

Dear Sam,

ME and my girlfriend love a bit of light bondage and enjoy dressing up, role play and watching porn together.

A couple of months ago she got a new top of the range video camera and said she wanted to film us having sex.

I was totally turned on by the idea and we agreed to play our favourite sex game. I pretended to be a workman who finds a beautiful but frustrated and horny housewife crying out for a good seeing-to.

We set up the camera in the kitchen and she put on her sexiest undies – stockings, suspenders, basque, fluffy mules and a see-through gown over the top.

I got into overalls then went outside and rang the bell.

She came to the front door and got all flirty with me on the doorstep, like I was some stranger that she had the hots for.

Then she let me into the house on the pretext of fixing an appliance.

I was pretending to fix the tumble dryer in the kitchen as she bent over, showing her pert bottom in a tiny black G-string.

I was getting a huge lob-on in my overalls as she writhed around the kitchen, before coming over to me and kissing me deeply.

Then she sank to her knees and released my hard cock before taking me in her mouth – making sure the camera picked up every glistening inch of it disappearing down her throat.

Horny

We were both so turned-on she could sense I was about to blow my load right down her throat, so she withdrew her lips just in time.

We were still horny so we took the camera upstairs and shot another scene.

This time she got dressed in her favourite dominatrix outfit, which is black leather.

She tied me to the bed and took her time pleasuring me with her hands, tongue and even a small whip she'd bought online.

I was quivering with desire as she straddled my face and let me lick her hard clit till her juices flowed over my lips and chin.

Then she slid onto my stiff cock and bounced hard on it until I felt my balls tighten and could take no more.

She cried out with pleasure as she rode as we both climaxed together.

The problem is, I've since found out that my girlfriend has been showing the clips to her girlie mates!

I'm wondering whether to dump her. What do you think?

FG, Derby

Sam says...

STOP moaning. Most men would love to be shown off to their partner's pals. Maybe she wants one of them to join you for a threesome!

Dear Sam,

THE only girls I can attract are really fat lasses – and I've shagged loads of them, even though it's hard getting my modest five-inch dick into all those layers of flab.

I have just come out of my apprenticeship as a pipe-fitter and have been given a much-needed and welcome pay rise.

But even with cash in my pocket I can't seem to pull girls with cracking figures.

Still, at least I find the fat girls will do almost anything for a shag.

Oral

As a result I have had more oral sex than a fella could wish for, they love licking dick, it seems.

And anal is often on the cards with the larger girls, too. In fact, I had one recently who would not have sex in any other position!

I lubed her up nicely and plunged my tool up her gaping back passage and pumped away at her ring until she screamed the house down.

But I still yearn for a slim, shapely looker with similar sexual tastes as the tubsters.

Are there any out there? How do I find one?

TC, Merseyside

Sam says...

I'd just take things as they come and think yourself lucky you're getting oral and anal virtually on demand.

I can't bear the idea of leaving hot lesbo nurses

Dear Sam,

A COUPLE of weeks ago two lovely young nurses moved into the flat above mine.

I saw them arrive and I couldn't believe how pretty they were, so I went to introduce myself. One is blonde and the other a redhead and they both have stunning figures.

We got chatting and I ended up going to the local supermarket for some wine for the three of us. After we'd had a couple of bottles one of the girls told me that they were living together as lesbians, but they occasionally liked cock, too.

Then she asked if I'd like to see what they get up to together. Naturally, I said that I would.

They started kissing and fondling each other's tits and fannies, sliding their fingers into knickers and making them wet with lust, before peeling them off so I could see the lot.

It was like watching a red-hot porn movie but with the attraction of being able to get involved.

While the blonde was licking out her mate I started shagging her from behind. I then had the redhead before they both sucked me off.

But the problem is the company I work for want me to relocate 200 miles away.

What can I do?

SJ, Bristol

Sam says...

YOU will probably have to accept and go, but I'm sure there will be randy nurses there too!

#HOT'N'HORNY

RAVISHING Rebecca Kelly is delighted summer is almost here – as she loves being nude in her garden.

The beauty said: “I love stripping off and sunbathing naked. But I assume the neighbours can’t see – well, nobody has complained!” And the brunette also likes a bit of indoor action, too.

Rebecca loves lubing up her massive 34Bs to give lucky fellas an amazing tit-wank.

The beauty, from Harrow, said: “Not many blokes have been with a woman with boobs like mine.

“So they’ve never really felt the sensation of having their full cock enveloped by a nice pair of fleshy boobs.

“All it takes is a bit of lube or baby oil and they’re in heaven – it’s like they’re in a different world!”

“Every time I’ve done it, the bloke involved told me it was the best sensation ever.”

WHERE REAL BABES SNAP THEMSELVES!

THIS is it...the only newspaper feature where REAL BABES show their boobs!

Self-shooting topless pics is a craze that's sweeping the country - but you don't need a swanky new smartphone to enjoy 'em - as we'll be printing the pick of the snaps EVERY week!

SEND US YOUR SELF-SHOTS!
selfshot@sundaysport.co.uk

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

HANNAH HILTON

JOINER Fred Burns wrote in asking for a topless photo of his favourite Sport glamour girl, Hannah Hilton.

The 54-year-old, from Oxford, says Hannah is a real scorcher and needs a new photo for his garage.

Fred said: "I've kept a photo of Hannah for ages, but I need a new one as it's getting a bit tatty and her 34DDs aren't as clear as they used to be."

"She's a beauty, and a fellow Oxfordonian too."

"I keep a photo of her in the workshop just to show the lads how fit she is when they come round."

RACHEL TER HORST

IT TECHNICIAN George Kenyon has always had his eye on blonde bombshell Rachel Ter Horst and begged for a sexy snap of her.

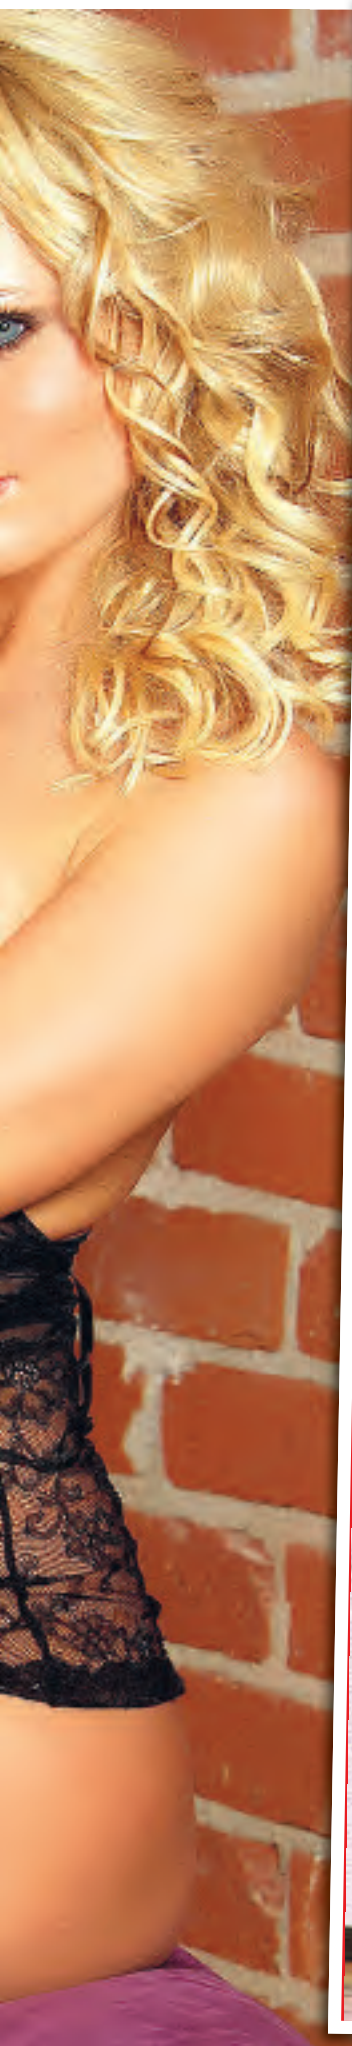

Brummie George, 51, says there's no girl fitter than Sport stunna Rachel and says the Dutch babe is perfect.

He said: "I saw Rachel in the paper a many years ago and she's been in a few times since, but not as much as I'd like!"

"I'd have her in every single week, flaunting those 36Ds."

"Can I please have a photo of her?"

HELEN LABDON

TOPLESS Helen Labdon has the best boobs in modelling, according to superfan Dave Greaves.

The 56-year-old fella, from Brighton, is currently recovering from surgery, but spends his days ogling Helen and her 34B norks.

Dave says he is Helen's biggest fan and was always trying to catch a glimpse of the model in her home town of Bracknell before she moved to Los Angeles.

He said: "Bracknell isn't too far from me and I often went there hoping to spot Helen - she's a total babe"

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

GREAT TO BE BACK!

Burnley and Leeds look forward to taking on the big boys again

BURNLEY captain Josh Brownhill joked the Clarets had “bored our way to the Premier League” after a 2-1 win at home to Sheffield United confirmed their return to the top flight at the first attempt.

Scott Parker’s side have conceded just 15 goals in 44 matches and victory over their promotion rivals ensured they could not be caught with two matches remaining, while also sending Leeds to the top flight. “I’m speechless,” Brownhill, who scored both goals, said. “All that hard work this season. We’ve been written off so many times, people calling us boring but we’ve bored our way to the Premier League again.”

For Parker, it was a third Premier League promotion with three different clubs in the space of six seasons, after achieving the impressive feat with Fulham and Bournemouth.

Parker replaced Vincent Kompany last summer after a chastening experience with Club Brugge at the start of 2023, sacked after 12 games, and it was clear from his celebrations how much this meant to the former England midfielder.

“It’s emotional for me,” Parker said.

“The main emotion comes from the pride I have for the group. It feels different to last time I’ve done it. This group, this whole football club, from the moment I walked in I’ve felt there was warmth, love, support and it gave me energy.”

Burnley will celebrate promotion but are still targeting the Championship title, level on points with leaders Leeds but with a much inferior goal difference. Attention will then turn to next season, and the challenge of the bucking the trend of promoted clubs coming straight back down from the Premier League.

“For sure it will be tough, and I think that has been proven over the last few years,” Parker said. “There’s a really massive challenge there for us next year. But there was a massive challenge for us this year and we’ve conquered it.”

Bittersweet

Chris Wilder could not hide his disappointment after United suffered a fourth defeat in five games, with losses against Oxford, Millwall and Plymouth having derailed their promotion push before this result.

“It’s bittersweet, really,” Wilder said. “We’re all hurting, we’re all suffering a little bit.”

“Congratulations to Daniel (Farke) and Leeds, congratulations to Scott and Burnley. For two teams above us to have the ability to finish on 100 points is incredible, insane really.

“That shows how the Championship is. To pick up no points in that week of football handed the initiative over to Burnley and to Leeds and congratulations to them in terms of taking advantage.”

However, having the prospect of automatic promotion taken away while listening to Burnley’s party was particularly tough for Wilder, who was unhappy with the lack of protection offered to his players when Burnley fans invaded the pitch at the final whistle.

“We’ve got to use that as fuel and motivation to reset, to try to get to 90 points, and see if we can have a night like Leeds are going to have and Burnley are going to have,” Wilder added.

“I’ve felt it, I’ve had nights like this. I’m jealous.”

United must now try to end an awful post-season record – they have gone into the promotion play-offs on eight previous occasions, reaching four finals, but are yet to enjoy success.

“The club has been here since 1889, over 100 years, and there will be a time to put that to bed,” he said. “Hopefully the time is this season.”

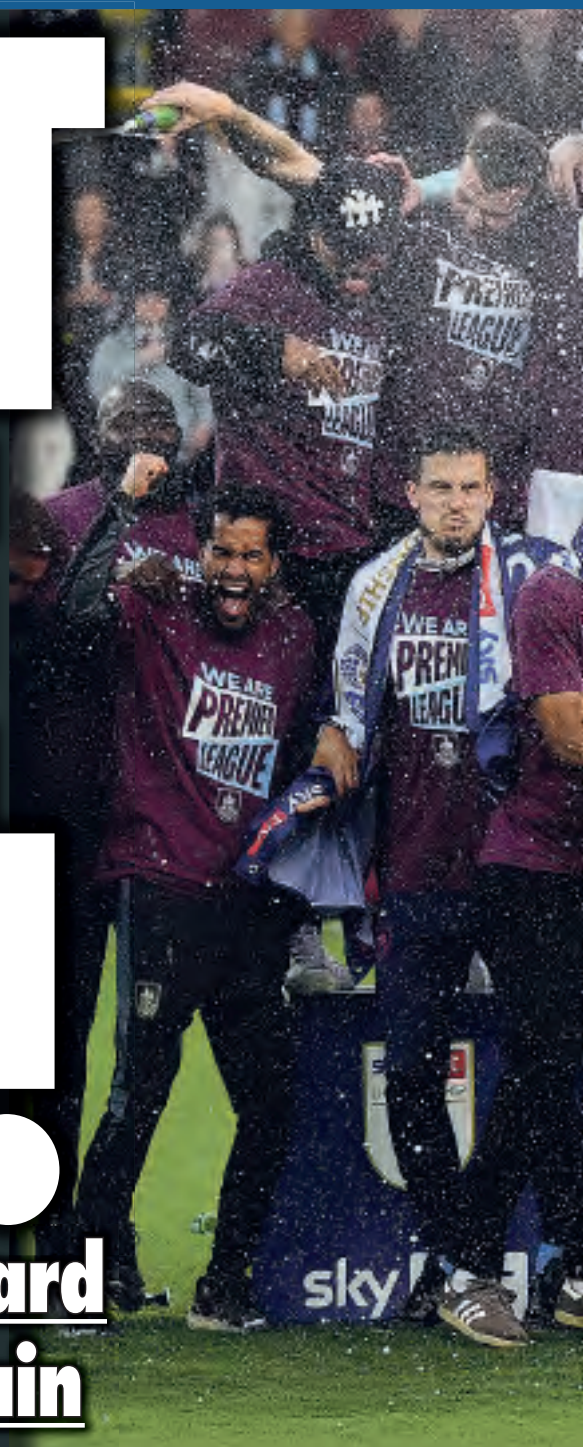

Meanwhile, Leeds captain Ethan Ampadu said Premier League promotion felt “amazing” and now wants to secure the Sky Bet Championship title.

Thousands

The Whites thrashed Stoke 6-0 at Elland Road to remain top of the table and the players then stayed to watch Burnley’s 2-1 win over Sheffield United at Turf Moor, which confirmed promotion for both Leeds and the Clarets.

Leeds fans gathered outside the ground in their thousands to celebrate their top-flight return.

Joel Piroe grabbed four goals for Leeds against hapless Stoke, including the club's fastest ever league hat-trick with strikes in the sixth, eighth and 20th minutes. He added his fourth before half-time after Junior Firpo had put Daniel Farke's side 4-0 up in 26 minutes.

Willy Gnonto headed the hosts' sixth in the second half to help seal Leeds' Premier League return after a two-year absence.

Ampadu said: "It's amazing. If you look at the scenes here, as it was after the final whistle, just pure excitement.

"Within ourselves we've got another target, so we can enjoy this now, but we've got another target we want to achieve. But right now, it's very good."

Leeds came up short during last season's run-in, dropping out of the top two before losing to Southampton in the play-off final, and Ampadu said that heartache had helped fuel Farke's side.

"Definitely. The lads that were here last year – we all felt that hurt," he said. "After the game at Wembley we wanted to put it right straightaway and we've had to wait another season.

"The lads who came in have been excellent, joining in with what we wanted to achieve.

"Thankfully one part is done. Everyone knows what the next part is, but it's fantastic."

Ampadu's Wales team-mate Joe Rodon said he was "buzzing" for everyone involved with the Elland Road club.

Buzzing

Rodon said: "For me it hasn't sunk in yet. I don't think it will until the end of the season, but I'm just delighted for everyone involved with the club, the fans and what it means to them.

"It's what everyone has worked for all season and I'm buzzing.

"(Last season) didn't sit right with me. The boys who have come in have been brilliant and we set out to do what we've done. I'm just delighted for everyone." Leeds boss Farke, who won promotion to the Premier League twice with Norwich in 2019 and 2021, said he was "lost for words".

Farke, enjoying a celebratory beer, said: "It doesn't happen that often.

"You can see the atmosphere here, it's incredible. It's well deserved, 94 points at this stage is unbelievable.

"The lads should celebrate, all our supporters should celebrate this promotion.

"We will make sure that this party feeling will last for one or two more days.

"It's difficult on such an emotional day to reflect too much, but it was a long road. It's not easy to stabilise the ship after relegation and to deal with that.

"We played fantastic last season, with 90 minutes, before the heart-breaking game at Wembley, but to show resilience and keep going, we deserve today to celebrate."

MULLINS TO HIT TARGET

FUN FUN FUN gets a confident vote in the Quilter Cheviot Fair Maid Of Perth Mares' Chase on day one of the Perth Festival.

Winner of a Grade Two bumper and successful at Listed and Grade Three level over hurdles, the seven-year-old made a pleasing start to her chasing career when making all over two and a half miles at Naas in early January.

Given her free-running style, dropping down in distance at Exeter next time out seemed a reasonable option, but Fun Fun Fun's jumping fell apart under pressure after an early mistake in a race won by Only By Night.

Willie Mullins learned from that lesson, though, and a complete change of tack resulted in an impressive 13-length triumph in Grade Three company over three miles at Limerick.

With her best trip sorted out, connections feel Fun Fun Fun has the ability to go on to bigger and better things, so it will be disappointing if she does not prove a cut above here.

Mullins is well represented in the British EBF Gold Castle "National Hunt" Novices' Hurdle but preference is for Jonjo and A J O'Neill's Mister Meggit.

He travelled really sweetly for a long way in the Grade One Sefton at Aintree before just faltering late on.

In his defence, that was a first outing for 146 days since easily accounting for a fair sort in Off The Jury at the same track, so the hope is that this lightly-raced seven-year-old still has scope for improvement as he gets more battle hardened.

Mullins also takes his relentless pursuit of a second straight British trainers' title to Ludlow, where More Coko can pick up a few more pounds in the Feathers Novices' Hurdle.

The six-year-old cost £75,000 after winning an Irish point-to-point two years ago and although he has to overcome a long lay-off since then, it is worth noting that runner-up Patriotik is now rated 126 over hurdles, while the third and fourth that day have also scored under rules.

VETERAN: Youngs

Youngs too old to play more rugger

RUGBY UNION

ENGLAND'S most capped men's player Ben Youngs is to retire at the end of the season.

The 35-year-old scrum-half, who racked up his 332nd appearance for Leicester at the weekend, made his senior debut in 2007 and went on to win five Premiership titles.

"It's a bittersweet feeling really. Obviously, I'm sad at the thought it's coming to an end but I'm excited about the rest of this season, excited about what this group can do," said Youngs, who played in 127 Tests for his country.

"That's the strange part, I'm using the 'r' word but it isn't over today, there is still plenty of rugby left this season and that's what is at the front of my mind.

"I'm not done, let's not write the obituary just yet. I have spent two decades of my life here at the club and I have been lucky to be a part of some incredible moments along the way, enjoyed so much success and made memories that will last a lifetime."

Youngs is England's most-capped player, having made his debut in 2010 and played at four World Cups – in 2011, 2015, 2019 and 2023 – before retiring two years ago after a third-place finish in France.

He played in 127 Tests for his country and won four Six Nations titles.

But now he is focused on securing a sixth Premiership title with Leicester, who are currently second to Bath, as he brings to an end his one-club career.

"It's all I have known in club rugby, the green, red and white, and all I've wanted to know," said Youngs, who last year had heart surgery after being diagnosed with an irregular and abnormally fast heartbeat.

"The idea of playing against this club wasn't ever an option for me and so, for me to be able to finish a one-club player will be one of my greatest achievements.

"The time will come to thank everybody who have helped me achieve what I have but, that's for when it comes to an end.

"For now, it's about finishing this chapter of my life with some more success. I'm not done just yet."

TITLE CHARGE:
Lando Norris

F1 SEASON IS MOTORING

THE Formula One season is firmly up and running with five races in six weeks providing an early picture of the 2025 campaign.

Here, Midweek Sport looks at the big talking points to emerge after an intense title tussle.

NORRIS' COSTLY MISTAKES

Lando Norris has admitted not feeling comfortable with his McLaren car and has been highly self-critical. He branded himself "clueless" over how to get the best out of it in Bahrain qualifying and a "fg idiot" after crashing in Q3 in Saudi Arabia.

These errors are hampering his title charge and have left him trailing despite having a car capable of building a lead.

The British driver will return to Miami, the scene of his maiden F1 win last season, hoping to banish his recent woes.

PIASTRI EMERGES AS TITLE FAVOURITE

McLaren, by their own admission, boast the best car in the sport and Norris – having finished runner-up to Max Verstappen last season – was expected to be their leading title hopeful. But it is the unflappable Australian Oscar Piastri who has stepped forward. Unlucky to miss out on a podium in Melbourne, he has won three of the four races since to lead the standings by 10 points from Norris. Piastri currently has the look of a champion.

VERSTAPPEN BEATS RED BULL ISSUES

Verstappen is bidding to equal Michael Schumacher's record of five successive titles this year but has continued to battle the issues with his

FORMULA ONE

Red Bull which surfaced in the second half of last season. He has complained of balance problems as speculation over his future with the team rages on. Despite all this, the Dutchman has shown his brilliance with an against-the-odds win in Japan and a strong second in Saudi Arabia, which means he leaves Jeddah just 12 points behind Piastri and firmly in the title hunt.

FERRARI DISAPPOINTMENT

Lewis Hamilton arrived at Ferrari ahead of the season to much fanfare and excitement. The seven-time world champion joined a team seemingly on the up, having narrowly missed out on the constructors' crown last season. But, aside from Hamilton's surprise sprint win in China, it has been a huge disappointment from the Scuderia. Charles Leclerc's third in Jeddah was their first podium and the car is well off the pace of McLaren. Quick fixes are needed but both Hamilton and Leclerc are struggling to hide their frustration.

RUSSELL IN THE HUNT

George Russell has been a picture of consistency for Mercedes. The 27-year-old has assumed the senior role after Hamilton's departure and believes he is performing as well as he ever has. While his car is not a match for McLaren out front, he has managed to remain error-free and deliver three podiums in the first five races.

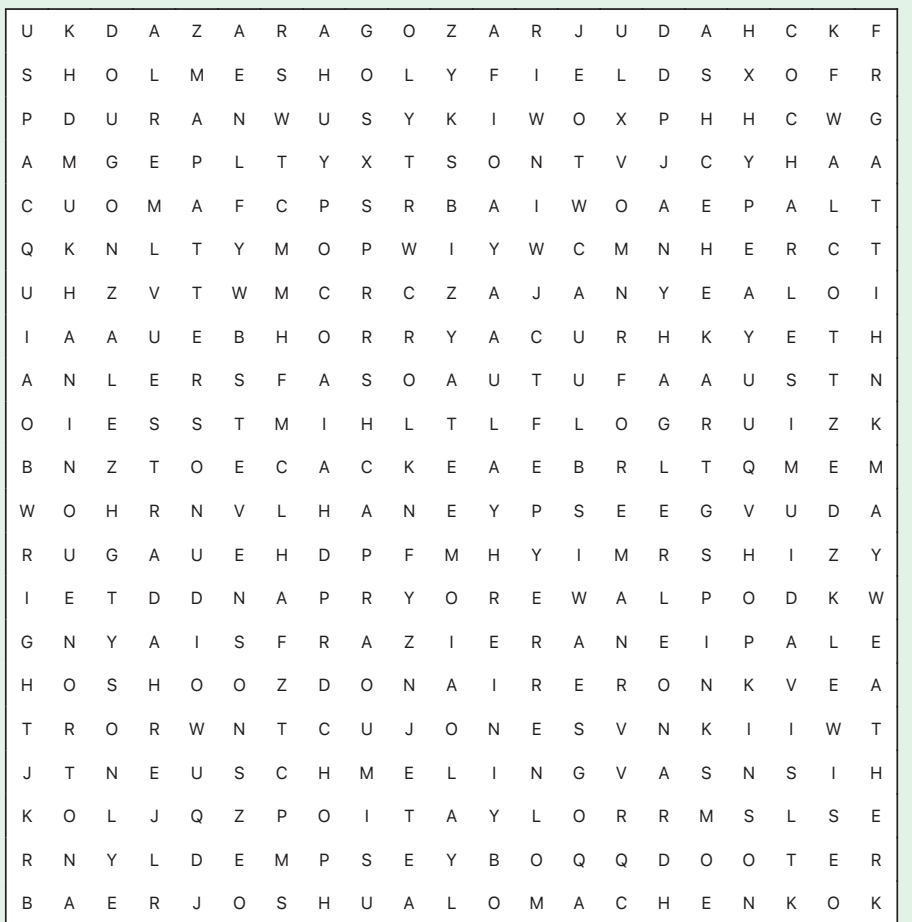

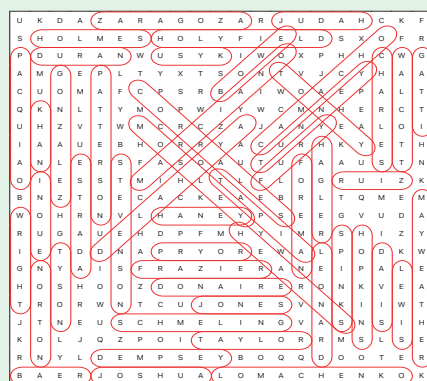

Russell does not believe he is a title contender but if Mercedes can find gains, the British driver could well be in the mix.

Lineker: the Beeb wanted me out

TEXTS COST ME SAYS TV HOST

GARY Lineker has said he thinks the BBC wanted him to leave Match of the Day – with the former footballer adding that he “didn’t like the damage” done by his controversial tweeting.

The 64-year-old outgoing MOTD host will leave the corporation after fronting its coverage of the 2026 World Cup in the United States, Mexico and Canada.

Lineker, who has worked as a presenter on the highlights programme since 1999, told the BBC's Amol Rajan: “It’s time (to leave). I’ve done it for a long time, it’s been brilliant, it’s been great... Well, perhaps they want me to leave... There was a sense of that.

By ANDY MILLOM

“I always wanted one more contract. It was their preference that I didn’t do Match of the Day for one more year so they could bring in new people, so it’s slightly unusual that I would do the FA Cup and the World Cup, but, to be honest, it’s a scenario that suits me perfectly.”

Solidarity

A trio of presenters – Kelly Cates, Mark Chapman and Gabby Logan – will replace him on MOTD.

Lineker was also grilled about the furore in March 2023 over his tweet comparing the then British government’s asylum policy with 1930s Germany.

The former England striker was briefly taken off air, and other sports journalists and presenters walked out in solidarity, before he returned to fronting MOTD.

Lineker said: “I don’t regret saying them publicly, because I was right – what I said, it was accurate – so not at all in that sense.

“Would I, in hindsight, do it again? No, I wouldn’t, because of all the nonsense that came with it... It was a ridiculous overreaction that was just a reply to someone that was being very rude. And I wasn’t particularly rude back.”

He added: “But I wouldn’t do it again because of all the kerfuffle that followed, and I love the BBC, and I didn’t like the damage that it did to the BBC... But do I regret it and do I think it was the wrong thing to do? No.”

His company, Goalhanger Podcasts, founded in 2019, has released popular podcasts such as

The Rest Is Politics, The Rest Is

Entertainment, and The Rest Is Football, which he co-hosts with MOTD colleagues Alan Shearer and Micah Richards.

Lineker has been the BBC’s highest-paid on-air talent for seven consecutive years and was estimated to have earned £1.35million in the year 2023/24, according to the corporation’s annual report published in July.

When he stepped down, it was reported that he was open to staying on at MOTD but was not offered a new deal for the show.

He will also host BBC Sport’s coverage of the FA Cup in the 2025-26 season, continue with the MOTD Top Ten podcast and the BBC will also host The Rest Is Football podcast, featuring Lineker, on BBC Sounds.

VARDY: SORRY FOR SHITSHOW

JAMIE Vardy has apologised for Leicester ending their season with “such a shitshow” after the club were relegated from the Premier League.

On Sunday, the Foxes suffered their second top-flight relegation in three seasons after being beaten 1-0 by league leaders Liverpool.

Trent Alexander-Arnold’s goal was the difference to confirm Leicester’s place in the Championship next season and hand them a 23rd league loss.

Veteran Foxes striker Vardy – who has seven league goals for the club this season – took to social media on Monday to apologise for the team’s performances and described their campaign as “miserable”.

By PAUL THOMAS

In a post on Instagram, the 38-year-old said: “At this point, I don’t even know what to say.

“No words I have can ever express my feelings of anger and sadness with the way this season has gone. There are no excuses.

“Collectively, as players and as a club, we failed. There is simply no hiding, and I refuse to entertain any suggestion of doing so. Having been at this club for so long, we’ve experienced so many highs and successes – and this season has been nothing but miserable and for me personally, a total embarrassment.

“It hurts, and I know you’re feeling it too.

Dismal

“To the fans: I’m sorry. Sorry we haven’t performed, and sorry we end the 2025 season with such a shitshow.”

Defeat on Sunday leaves Leicester second-from-bottom in the Premier League table with 18 points from 33 games.

Manager Ruud van Nistelrooy replaced the departing Steve Cooper at the King Power Stadium in November and took four points from his first two games at the helm before a dismal run of form saw Leicester take only four more points in the following 18 league games.

They have not even scored in their last nine home games, since a 2-2 draw with Brighton on December 8.

The Foxes have five games remaining this season, starting with a visit to Molineux on Saturday when they take on in-form Wolves who have won their last five matches.

CRIS SPURRED ON TO LEAVE

Romero ready to ditch London for La Liga

By JOHN ANTHONY

TOTTENHAM vice-captain Cristian Romero has opened the door for a future move to LaLiga, but expressed his desire to win the Europa League.

Spurs slipped to another Premier League defeat on Monday, their 18th of a poor domestic campaign, after a 2-1 loss at home to Nottingham Forest.

It occurred days after Ange Postecoglou's team went into the last four of the Europa League with an impressive 1-0 victory at Eintracht Frankfurt.

Play

Romero starred in Germany, but has endured an injury-hit season and only played 23 times while recent reports in Spain have linked his future with a move to Atletico Madrid.

During an interview with Argentinian journalists Esteban and Gaston Edul, the 26-year-old spoke about his future with his current contract at Tottenham set to expire in the summer of 2027. Asked what new league he would like to play in, Romero said in Spanish: "I'd love to play in LaLiga. I'd love to, honestly."

"We'll see after the championship is over. The truth is, I haven't spoken to my agent yet, but I'm open to anything."

"My goal is always to grow and go to new places to continue developing."

"Above all else, I try to take one day at a time. There are two months left until the end of the season and I'm always thinking about performing at my best."

"We're in the Europa League semi-finals. It's an important step for the club, which hasn't reached this stage for so many years. I'd like to win it."

Romero's comments are unlikely to go down well at Tottenham, especially at a time when they are 16th in the Premier League.

Postecoglou revealed the decision to withdraw Romero and centre-back partner Micky van de Ven at half-time on Monday had been "pre-planned" and explained why it was important for the duo to start.

He added: "I thought they needed to play some minutes because it becomes 10 days leading into Liverpool (on Sunday)."

"With both of them, we've got them in a really good place physically now and I just want to keep them ticking over. I felt that there was no need to play more than 45 minutes today and we needed to get a couple of others game time."

Spurs boss Postecoglou also revealed Destiny Udogie was rested and unused substitute James Maddison was "fine" after being forced off in Frankfurt.

Third-placed Nottingham Forest switch focus to Sunday's FA Cup semi-final with Manchester City and Nuno Espirito Santo reflected on the dramatic turnaround in fortunes they experienced.

Improving

Asked if he expected to challenge for Champions League qualification, Nuno said: "We didn't approach the competition like that."

"We just said how can we improve from last season? Last season, we were saved in the last game of the season at Burnley."

"As soon as we finished, it was just about improving, improving players, getting more out of them, that was the priority."

"The end of the season will bring anxiety, nerves and you have to deal with that."

Wilshere takes over at Canaries

JACK Wilshere will take charge of Norwich's final two games of the season after the Canaries parted company with head coach Johannes Hoff Thorup.

Norwich have slipped to 14th in the Championship after winning only twice in 14 matches, with their 3-1 Easter Monday defeat at Millwall being their fourth loss in five games.

Danish coach Hoff Thorup was appointed on a three-year deal last May and leaves Norwich alongside his assistant Glen Riddersholm.

Sporting director Ben Knapper said: "Whilst we made this appointment with a long-term focus, recent results and performances have deemed it necessary to make a change."

Knapper added: "I'd like to place on record our sincere thanks to Johannes and Glen."

"They are both fantastic people who worked tirelessly to help improve and move our football club forward."

MILLER DEAL A 'NO-BRAINER'

HIBERNIAN'S decision to trigger the one-year extension clause in Lewis Miller's contract "makes complete sense" to boss David Gray.

The 24-year-old's deal will now extend until the end of the 2025/26 campaign.

Miller, who plays right-back or on the right side of a back three, joined Hibs in 2022 and has made 83 appearances for the Easter Road outfit, during which time he has become an Australia international.

Gray, whose side are in third in the Premiership, said: "This decision makes complete sense."

"Lewis has been working really hard on his game, he's a very coachable player, and he's seen the rewards from that so far this season."

"He has shown with his performances for us and on the international stage that he's developing as a player. He's a good character and is keen to constantly progress."

UNITED ROLL OUT MAT

Reds close in on deal for Cunha

MANCHESTER United want Matheus Cunha to solve their striker crisis.

The Red Devils are close to sealing a deal to sign the Wolves frontman who says he will leave Molineux at the end of the season.

The Brazilian hitman is thought to have a £62m release clause in his contract and that's what any suitors will have to pay.

But United don't have the field to themselves with Newcastle also thought to be interested in the 25-year-old.

Toon boss Eddie Howe sees Cunha as the ideal partner for Alexander Isak in attack and also has the funds to trigger that release clause.

Man United are thought to be leading the race and Cunha was spotted having a chat with Red Devils boss Ruben Amorim after Wolves' 1-0 win at Old Trafford at the weekend.

Both clubs are also in the hunt for Liam Delap of Ipswich – with Liverpool also sniffing around the big centre-forward.

He has been a revelation this season, scoring 12 goals despite the Tractor Boys enduring a nightmare campaign.

His relegation release clause is just £30m which is certain to trigger a bidding war for his services this summer.
